

Mandala

for Piano

Stefano Paparozzi

This piece should be played entirely with one hand muffling the strings inside the instrument, not on a node that will produce harmonics, and still letting the pitches be recognizable. The choice of hands is free.

Feet hold down una corda pedal and half of the sustain pedal throughout all the piece.

The marcato accents should be very light, just enough to highlight the rhythmic pattern.

At the end of the piece, let every resonance die before releasing the pedals and the muffling hand.

$\text{♩} = 110$ , non rubato

$\emptyset \rightarrow$

poco

una corda

pp

$\frac{1}{2} \text{ped} \rightarrow$

alterations are valid
for the entire system

...rit.

(4'00" ca.)